Making Objects and Events: A Hylomorphic Theory of Artifacts, Actions, and Organisms:

Simon J Evnine explores the view which he calls amorphic hylomorphism that some objects have matter from which they are distinct but that this distinctness is not due to the existence of anything like a form He draws on Aristotle s insight that such objects must be understood in terms of an account that links what they are essentially with how they come to exist and what their functions are the coincidence of formal final and efficient causes Artifacts are the Simon J Evnine has written a superb book It is detailed profound and carefully argued with extremely well informed discussions of views that have a bearing on his own account Evnine is careful to make clear the relevance of many different issues to eac
